SC Farm Bureau Women's Leadership Conference

October 5 & 6, 2010

The South Carolina Farm Bureau Women's Leadership Committee is planning an educational and fun-filled leadership conference for all Farm Bureau Women in South Carolina. The conference will take place October 5 and 6, 2010 at the Hilton Garden Inn in Rock Hill in York County. We hope you will be able to attend the conference as we pay tribute to our history while at the same time working towards our future as South Carolina's #1 industry.

Invited guests include York County's own farmer and author, Mrs. Dori Sanders; farmer and agricultural advocate, Mrs. Chris Chinn; Ms. Vonne Knight, Ag Literacy Director; along with the 2009 Betty J DeWitt Outstanding Educator Award Winner, Mrs. Leslie Hamby from Lexington County.

In addition, the Catawba Indians will performing some of their traditional dances during our Tuesday evening banquet.

The optional post-conference tour of York County will start with a trip back in time to Historic Brattonsville in McConnells followed by lunch at the quaint and whimsical Garden Cafe in York. The tour will be rounded out with a stop at the amazing Stacy's Greenhouses where you will be blown away with the technology and a visit to Black's Peaches and Bakery owned and operated by Farm Bureau's own, Mr. Arthur Black.
